Putting together a yearbook is a lot more work than most people realize. It takes dedication, and many hours on the phone organizing, and telling the plant that you're going to be "a couple of days late". Sometimes I wished I had taken up hang-gliding instead!

I would like to thank those of you who helped put this yearbook together ... the photographers, the yearbook staff (especially Lara and Alison), my roommates (who put up with all my complaining), the students, faculty and administration whose support and smiling faces made this yearbook a reality. If you didn't appear in the Heritage, don't worry; the only reason I got my picture in this book was because I was the editor! Maybe you didn't appear within the covers of the Heritage, but I hope all of your fondest memories from this year did. Best of luck in the future.

Sincerely,

Heather

To Commemorate the 125th anniversary of Huron College, the yearbook staff has tried to give this year's book a touch of class. We have tried to cover all parts of Huron life -- from the academic to the social aspects. A yearbook is designed to spark fond memories, we hope this year's HERITAGE will sum up '88/'89 at Huron.

There are so many obstacles encountered in the production of a yearbook that, at times, its completion seems impossible. However, the help of dedicated people sends it to the printers. Among the many people to whom I am especially grateful are Lara Kudryk and Allison Randall. They went far beyond the call of duty. The I.C.P. printing company was also a tremendous help in the production; their understanding and leniency are greatly appreciated. Those of you who donated pictures, and those of you who took pictures especially for us, made our job a lot easier. Most of all, however, I'd like to extend a very special thanks to my co-editor Heather, who always kept on top of things.

We've done our best; we really hope you enjoy it.

Administration

Congratulations to the graduating class of '89!

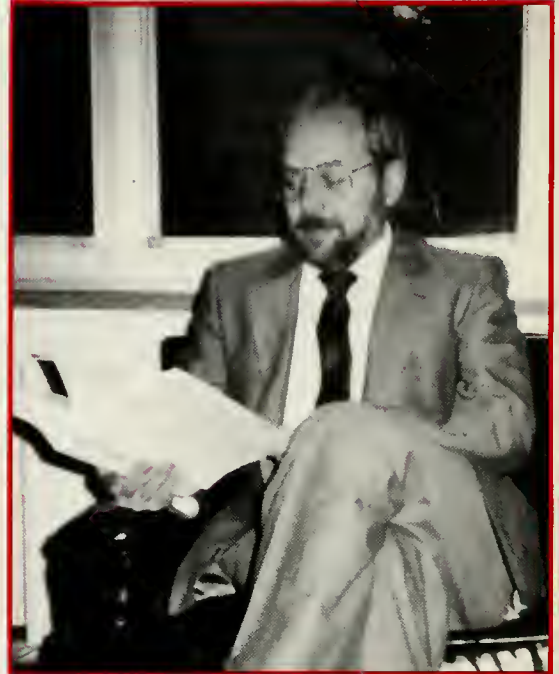

This is a significant year in the life of Huron College. We have two anniversaries to celebrate. In 1863, 125 years ago, Huron College came into being as an Anglican theological College. In 1958, an Act of the Province of Ontario gave official recognition to the creation of the new Huron College which is both a liberal arts college and an Anglican theological seminary.

Throughout its history, Huron has valued and sought to preserve a vital sense of community. The College has always striven to be a real community - a community of faculty and students sharing a life of the mind and of the spirit. What Huron stands for is the idea of education in community, the kind of education capable of fostering the growth of the whole person.

I hope that you who are graduating at the end of this academic year have benefitted from this community and, as alumni/ae will return often to it. May you have interesting, prosperous and fulfilling years ahead.

Dr. Charles J. Jago
Principal.

Dear Graduate:

I do thank the Heritage Committee for the opportunity to wish each of you in the graduating class of 1989 best wishes and continued success in your future undertakings. It has been a pleasure and privilege for me to work with you and to play a small part in the preparation for your future careers.

We do thank you for your contribution and participation in the College community and hope you have found your experiences here helpful and significant.

The doors of Huron College will always be open to you - we hope you will drop in for a visit whenever possible or if we can be of any assistance to you in the future, please do let us know.

My sincere congratulation -

J. Catherine Ridley
Registrar

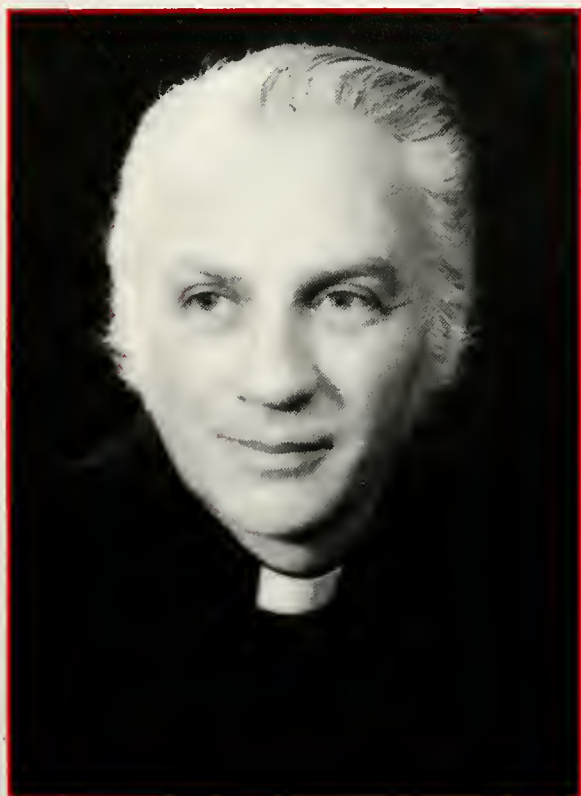

To the Graduating Class of 1989:

During 1988/89, on the occasion of its 30th anniversary, the Faculty of Arts and Social Science brought forth its first formal statement of mission. In that statement, the Faculty stressed the importance it attaches to teaching the pleasure of learning, but the truth is that the pleasure each student finds in learning depends as much on his or her peers as it does on the faculty. In effect, the Huron objective is to show that learning, vocation and recreation blend imperceptibly into one another, and that this special recreation is enhanced when it is shared. If Huron has succeeded in making learning a permanent and pleasurable part of your life, it has succeeded largely because of the way you and your peers have joined in the process. I hope that it has succeeded and that these years will always remain in your minds as years in which you found new friends in and through the pleasure of learning together.

To The Graduates of 1989:

Congratulations!

This is an important year: it is the year which marks the beginning of your new future as a graduate. It is also the year which marks the 125th anniversary of the founding of Huron College.

There have been many important and far-reaching changes in the history of Huron College. It is also true that your future as a graduate will contain many important and far reaching changes. As in the future - so in the past.

Changes - whether in institutions or in personal life - are always different, new and risky. That's the way it is when the future puts to meet us. Sometimes it's like a new birth to new places and new hopes, new friends and new dreams.

Enjoy it!

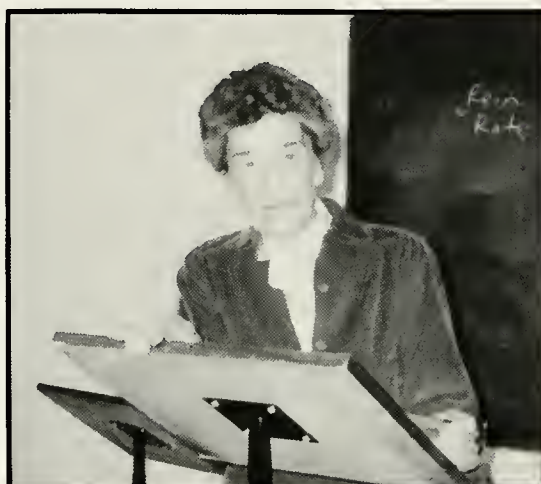

Donald F. Irvine,
Dean of Theology.

Huron College

On a hill by the stream
where the sun goes down
in a golden gleam
just north of town
there they bid thee stand.

On a hill by the stream
men come and men go like an endless dream-- or the water's flow
where they bid thee stand.

125 Years of Tradition

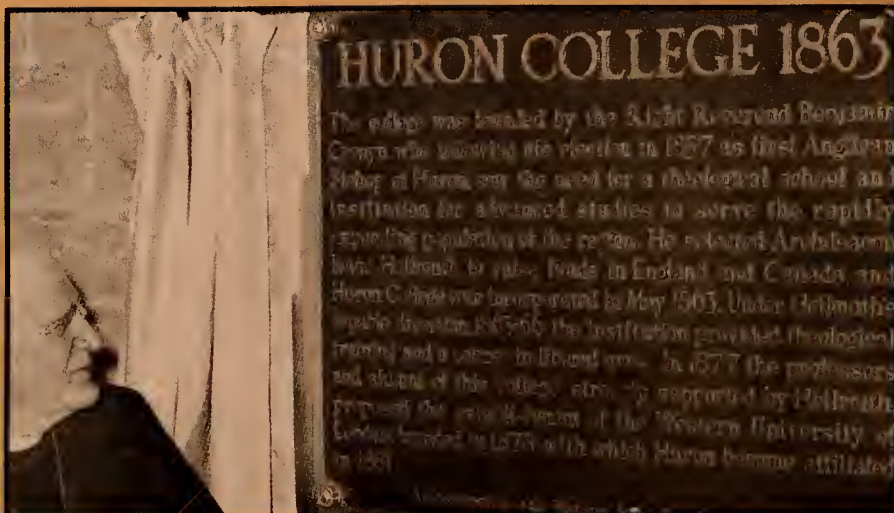

Huron was originally founded in 1863, primarily as an Anglican theological seminary, but also as the first institution of higher education in London, Upper Canada West. When the University of Western Ontario, called the Western University of Western Ontario, was founded in 1878, Huron became strictly a theological college. We continue to be a theological college and are proud of our 125 years of service to the Anglican Church.

The new Huron College emerged in 1956 with the establishment of a Faculty of Arts. The existence of the new Huron college Act in the Provincial legislature. In this same year women were admitted to Huron and the College became co-educational.

Mr. Don Cox

TO THE CLASS OF 1989

As your university undergraduate years come to an end, I would like to congratulate you and those in your family and friends who share in your graduation. In wishing you well I do appreciate that it was in the 1980's that society overwhelmingly came to accept the premise that education is a life-long process. To congratulate you on your graduation is really to congratulate you on achieving just one of the major steps along your road of self-enlightenment and growth.

Nineteen eighty-nine will hold some special memories for you and the College. It is the year the College fully embarked on a fund-raising program to build a new education centre, in effect, under the cloister lawn. It is the year former H.C.S.C. member, Don, Head Don, Sub-Warden, Lecturer and Residence Director Jeff Murray finally graduated to the 'real world'; and it is the year we said au revoir to Women's Warden Mrs. Betty Anderson who retired after eight years of service.

Those of us remaining at the College will watch with interest as you continue building upon the skills, insights and knowledge you garnered at Huron -- and as a Huron alumnus we hope your relationship will continue through the many activities of the Huron College Alumni Association.

Mrs. A.V. Anderson

"SEPTEMBER", The Beginning of it All-

The following is one paragraph of September's Song-
John Ed. Pearce in Louisville
Courier-Journal Magazine

September is a time of transition, of departures and arrivals, good-byes and hellos. The lifeguard snaps the lock on the fence around the swimming pool, now drained and lonely, and turns his thoughts toward his fraternity's rush week. The six-year-old takes one last look at her Mother in the station wagon before she pushes open the door to Grade 1 and the world. At airports, parents gaze after sons and daughters leaving for College and wonder where the years have gone.

Congratulations Graduates, and Best Wishes to all returning for another successful year, or two, or three!

Mrs. A.V. Anderson
Warden, Women's Residence

HALLOWE'EN

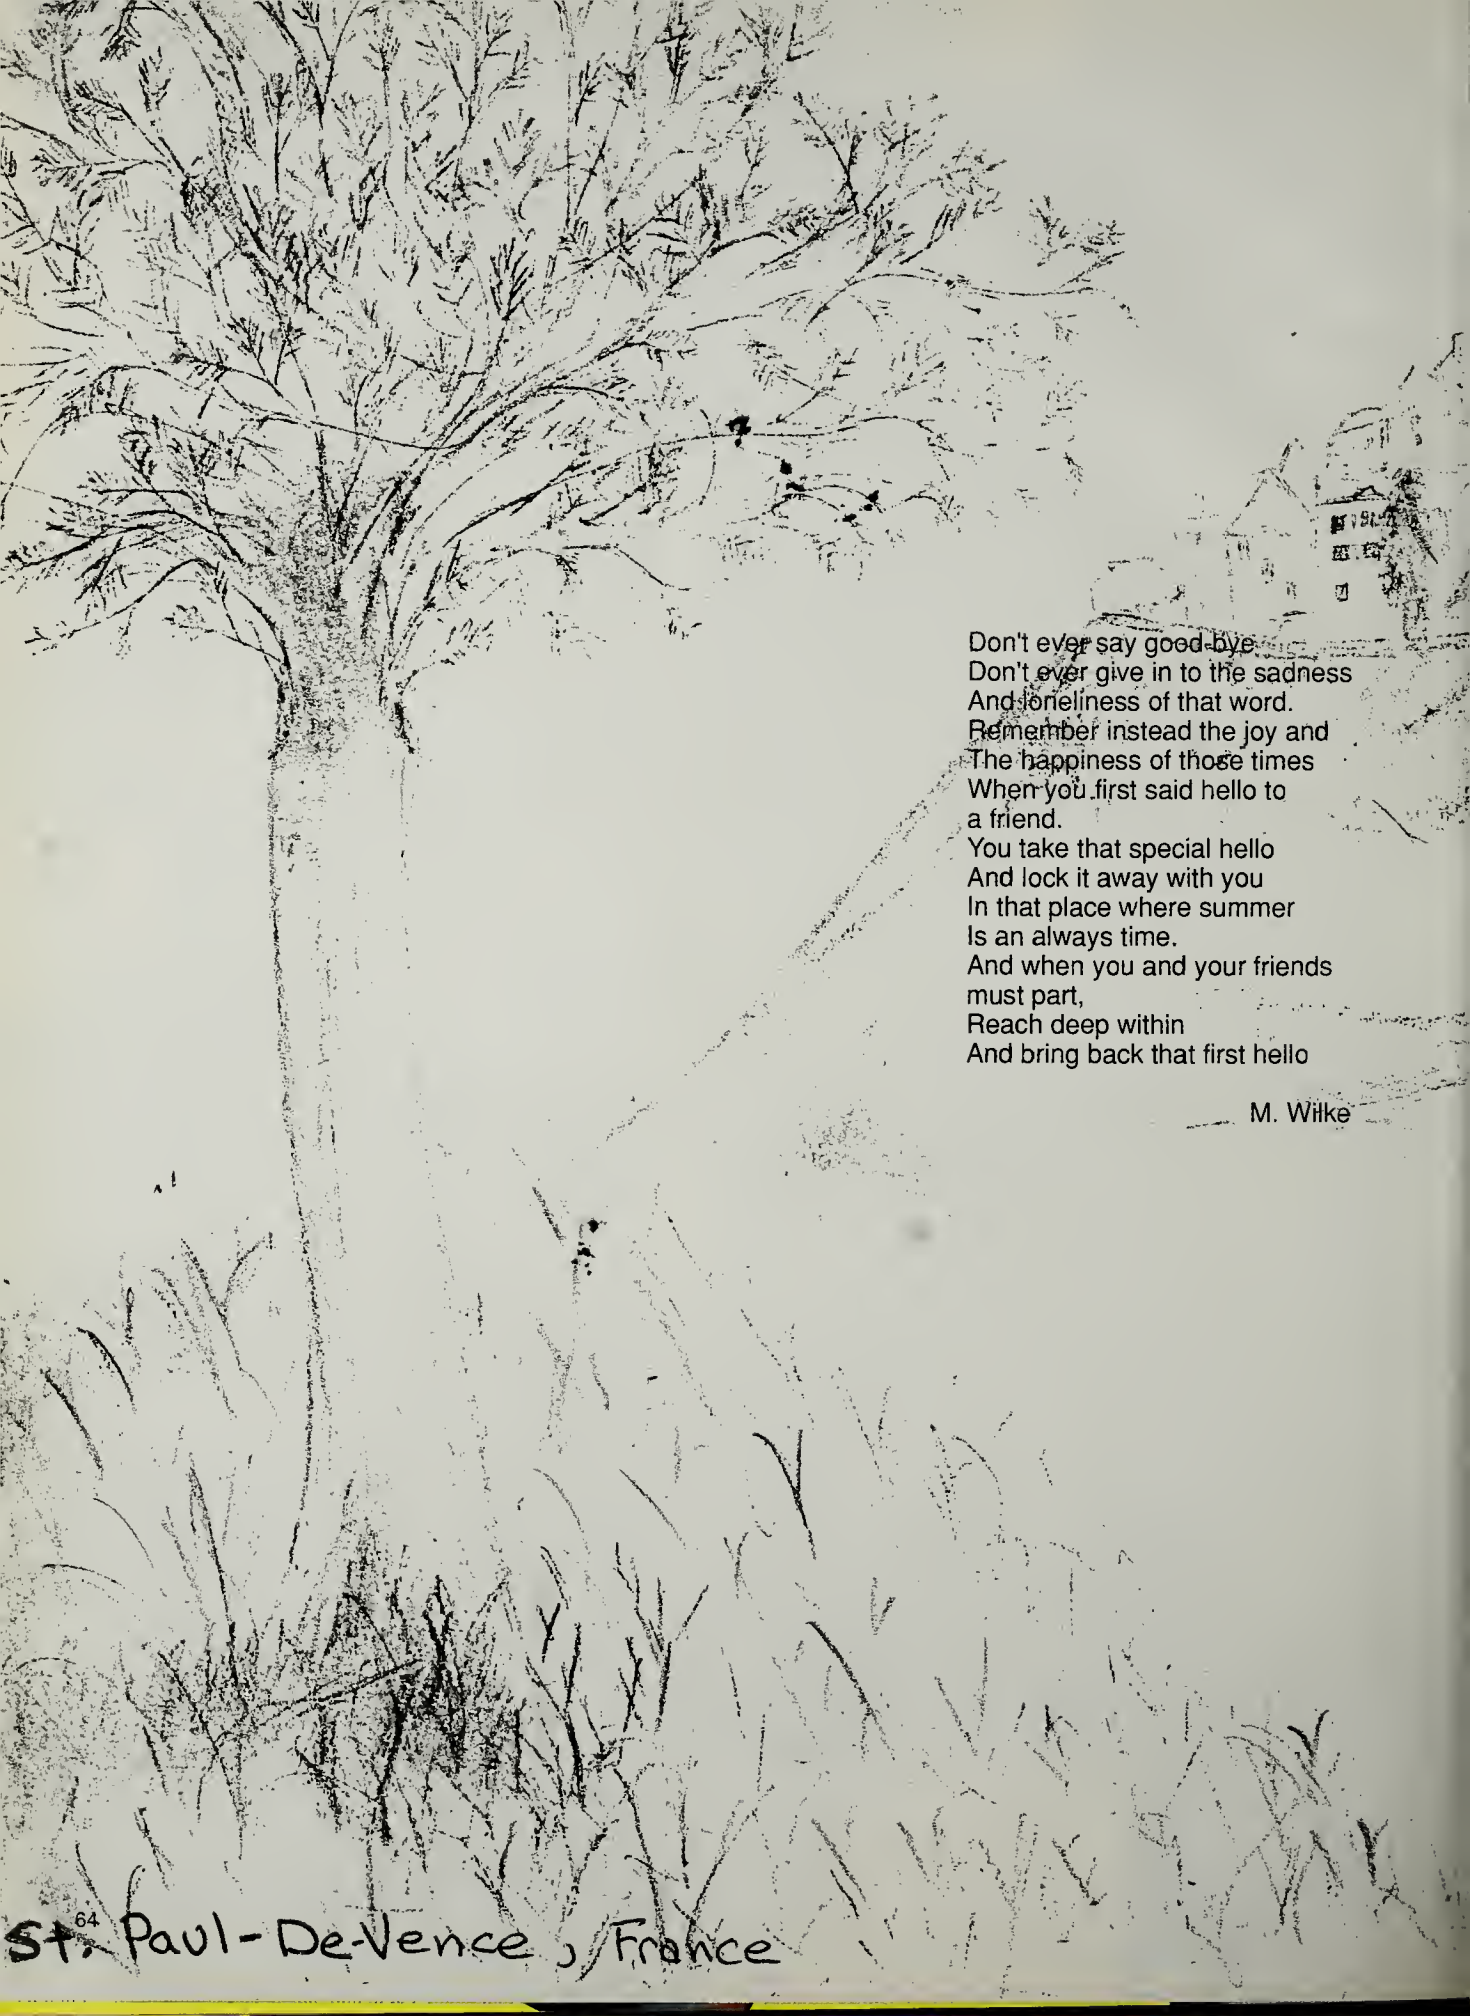

Don't ever say good-bye
Don't ever give in to the sadness
And loneliness of that word.
Remember instead the joy and
The happiness of those times
When you first said hello to a friend.
You take that special hello
And lock it away with you
In that place where summer
Is an always time.
And when you and your friends
must part,
Reach deep within
And bring back that first hello

ONE EYED DOG IN A CACTUS PATCH

Now that school has kicked into gear, we're wandering around like a one eyed dog in a cactus patch. The frosh week rollerskating days of whizzing around at 50 m.p.h., only stopping now and again to do a Russian split jump in midair are over. Smooching time has been cut in half. I heard Miss Ridley saw some rascal in the act. "Honest, I was just whispering in her mouth," the rascal cried. This academic stuff has hit me in the face like a frozen codfish.

Yet, some albino dwarf with a Motley Crue button pinned on his chest (no shirt either) who claims to be my father says that university was harder in his day. "It was 10 miles to school, 10 miles back, through rain, snow, tornado winds, scorching sun and fog," the dwarf declared.

Some guys have joined the bruising ball hockey league and wonder when they play the soprano section of the children's mennonite choir. Others have enlisted in the Western Society of Balding Leaky Faucet Cleaners and look forward to quilting bees and group rate rides on the Flying Whiplash rollercoaster at the C.N.E.

Me, I've just lost my dog. He has a medium build, a hairy face and is wearing my red Beaver Blowout t-shirt.

Although, the bottom line is at the end of this article, they say we're in for a dandy education at Huron. To quote Albert Einstein, "Huron College is by far the most academically advanced institute I have ever known and I have based all my scientific theories on its structure."

Maybe old Albert baby was right. When I go to my hometown Kitchener's Oktoberfest and I'm in line for Munich sausage and polkaing to the extended dance mix of "You ain't gonna get no dessert 'til you eat your weiner schnitzel" I'll be pondering Einstein's quote.

Until then, we'll keep living each Huron day as a cosmic love vibration.

ONE YEAR DIARY

THE OLD YEAR IS A DIARY,
OF MEM'RIES GOOD AND BAD.
A BOOK OF HAPPY TIMES,
AND THINGS THAT MADE US SAD.
THIS BOOK CAN'T BE REWRITTEN, CAN'T EVER BE ERASED.
THE YEAR LIVES ON FOREVER,
IT CAN NEVER BE REPLACED.

TURNED DOWN PAGES NOTING THE DAYS,
THE DAYS THAT MEANT SO MUCH.
THOSE MEM'RIES SAVED FOREVER, MUST ALWAYS STAY AS SUCH.
TEAR-STAINED PAGES MARK THE DAYS,
WHEN SORROW RULED THE WORLD.
DEATH AND WAR WAS SEEN BY ALL,
AND FLAGS AT HALF MAST FURLED.

THE YEAR IS OVER, CAME AND GONE,
ANOTHER TAKES ITS PLACE.
THE YEAR BRINGS MUCH HOPE,
AND MORE LESSONS WE MUST FACE.
AS WE LOOK TOWARDS THE FUTURE,
KEEPING THE PAST IN MIND.
WE WON'T MAKE THE SAME MISTAKES,
WE CAN LEAVE THE WORST BEHIND.

Committees

For each of us, our experiences at Huron College are as different and as unique as we are individuals. Each of us has brought something of our own to this community, each of us will take something different away. Nonetheless, we have all benefitted from one common aspect of attending Huron; its quality of education. Although all of us have different goals and aspirations, in a general sense each one of us has been educated in the same way. Perhaps what we have learned does not aim us toward any specific job in the workplace; nonetheless, our education has prepared us to take hold of the REST of our lives.

"A school should not be a preparation for life. A school should be life" (Elbert Hubbard).

Huron College has indeed been life--challenge and opportunity.

When told I had to write a short letter for the "Heritage", an anecdote that I had heard many years came to mind. It goes like this: Before retiring to bed, Theodore Roosevelt and his friend the naturalist William Beebe would go out and look at the skies, searching for a tiny patch of light near the constellation of Pegasus. "That is the Spiral Galaxy in Andromeda," they would chant. "It is as large as our Milky Way. It is one of a hundred million galaxies. It consists of one hundred billion suns, each larger than our sun." Then Roosevelt would turn to his companion and say, "Now I think we are small enough. Let's go to bed."

That feeling of being overwhelmed can occur so easily at a University of approximately 24,000 students. Fortunately, we at Huron College don't suffer from that problem and it is through this small community that we are able to make lasting friendships. It is these friendships and memories that make our experience at Huron College so enjoyable.

Wishing you a productive and fun-filled year.

The newly formed charity committee, known among humanitarians as simply Hoochiekoo, laid a path of philanthropy 100 miles wide. The Hoochiekoo Dream Team of 19 tagged in for a headwind crossfire of barn-burnin' cut throat charity events. The Atomic Pumpkin Drop from the 3rd south window in O'Neil, the Pie in the Face outside the Academic Wing, Candy-Cane-O-Grams, Flowers at Valentine's and Food Drives successfully raised triple digit cash for the United Way and the Hemophilic Society. Huron residents kicked their charitable souls into gear when they agreed to sacrifice a supper meal for charity. Along with the proceeds from the toga pub and a donation from Domino's Pizza, Hoochiekoo joined hands to give over $1000 to the Canadian Cancer Society. The committee also sponsored soul injecting Christmas and Easter parties for the Merrymount Children's Centre, which featured sponsors from Domino's, Tim Horton's, Beaver Foods, Burger King, 4 Hoochiekoo Toy Shops, Dave Hoenuk's Lucas tree buddies and Tate Enterprises. Thanks to the entire charity committee, especially Kate and Allie, Fergoid, Catherinecat, Coucher, Howie, Kooter, Britts, Hills, Leslie-Lou, Chrisper Sabine and Heather, Brownie and Hommie, Janet Jones and Andrea the Animal.

Keep on charity truckin'!

FOOD AND RESIDENCE

SORRY ABOUT THE VISUALS RES-REVIVORS AND FOOD FIENDS...

We, food fiends, had fun with the food this year, although we still had to eat the stuff...NO PRIVILEGES HERE...and we had lots of fun decorating the refectory for special dinners, ranging from our feature motion picture "Halloween" to our New York New York theme at Valentines. We even relieved people from eating in the refectory one night and contributed that relief fund to charity. Our thanks go to Jim, Ken and Don for their help.

We, res-revivors, were new to the H.C.S.C. scenery this year. Keeping things ship shape in res, we embarked on a week long door-to-door blitz "Res-Revival week." Along with the food fiends, on our fancy Res paper, we produced valuable feedback for Maintenance and ensured that everyone had a bed to sleep in. Our big project was setting up the "Huron Foot Patrol" and being the first affiliate to take the big plunge into campus safety. We think, hope, pray that this plus the lighting for Brough plus the removal of trees plus the keeping of the escort "need an escort" van plus what anyone else can think of...is enough.

HAVE A GREAT SUMMER EVERYONE!
NEXT YEAR SAME PLACE SAME TIME!

You've made this year into one I'll never forget. Your beautiful smile and laugh made my rainy days into sunshine again. Thanks!!

When may come and go, but friends are forever.

Enough of this mush, I have a TERRIFIC summer. We'll compere tons in Sept.

Good luck at camp - don't forget to write. I'll see you some weekend for sure.

(yes I'm majoring in English)

Cheer for now chicky-see

Your Friend,
Lue.
